DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the restricting means being configured to be retained along a surface of the outer end face in abutting contact with the restricting device as recited in claim 16 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-5, 7-12, 14, and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 1 and 9 recite the limitations wherein the first elongated member having two ends, the first end having smaller width than the second end; the second elongated member having two ends, the first end and the second end; and the first end of the second elongated member receives the second end of the first elongated member. However, the specification and the drawings, as originally filed fails to show the larger end of the first end being received in the first end of the second elongated member. As shown in Fig. 2, the larger end 22 is for receiving an operating device rather than being passed through the second elongated member.

4. Claims 16, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 16 recites the limitation wherein “the restricting means is configured to be retained along a surface of the outer end face in abutting contact with the restricting device.” Such configuration is not disclosed or shown clearly. A portion of such configuration appears to be referring to the element shown in Fig. 4. However, the specification and the drawings fail to clearly indicate how such abutting configuration is achieved.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 16, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gill, U.S. Patent 5,381,707.

Gill shows, in Figs. 4-10, an extensible handle comprising; a first elongated member 20 having a first end 22 and second end 23, the first end being constructed and arranged to be received into a device to be operated;

the first elongated member further comprising at least one receptacle 26 for receiving a restricting device 32 through a side surface of the first elongated member;

a hollow second elongated member (other 20) having a first end 23 and a second end 22 wherein the first end has an outer end face, the second elongated member positioned to telescopically receive the second end of the first elongated member and further including a means (the reduced inner diameter portion of 22) for restricting the first elongated member from fully passing through both ends of the second elongated member, wherein, in order to prohibit movement in an axial direction;

wherein the sizing of the second end of the first elongated portion and the first end of the second elongated member prevents the second end of the first elongated member from passing through the first end of the second elongated member;

wherein the first elongated member further includes a means (as shown in Fig. 4 where 22 is connected to 25) for securing the first elongated member to a device to be operated; and wherein at least one of the first elongated member and the second elongated member is comprised of at least the metal.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 9, and 16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3682
